PROFILE

Angie is a Manager at BDO Business Restructuring and has been on the Master of the High Court's Panel since 2002.

In 2000, Angie completed a short course on the Introduction to Managers at Deloitte and Touche. In 2002, she obtained her Diploma in Insolvency Law and Practice and since then specialised in all aspects relating to the law of Insolvency.

In November 2006, Angie received her appointment as Commissioner of Oaths. In 2007, she obtained her Diploma in Advanced Insolvency Law and Practice and has also successfully completed the short course on business rescue decision-making at the University of Pretoria. Angie obtained her LLB in 2020 and was admitted as an Attorney in the High Court of South Africa on 13 October 2023.

EXPERIENCE

Angie has extensive experience in attending to the day-to-day administration of deceased insolvent estates, sequestrations and in particular liquidated companies.

She has handled various liquidations and sequestrations ranging from minimum fee to multi-million Rand fee estates, and therefore has vast knowledge in her field.

Her duties as appointed liquidator includes the investigation into the financial affairs of the companies, analysing bank statements and the day-to-day trading of the companies. It also includes taking control of the company assets and realizing them to the benefit of creditors as well as the collection of outstanding debtors.

Angie also aids Business Rescue Practitioners with their day-to-day administration.
