ANSWER ALL THE QUESTIONS

QUESTION 1 (multiple-choice questions) [10 marks in total]

Questions 1.1. – 1.10. are multiple-choice questions designed to assess your ability to think critically about the subject. Please read each question carefully before reading the answer options. Be aware that some questions may seem to have more than one right answer, but you are to look for the one that makes the most sense and is the most correct. When you have a clear idea of the question, find your answer and mark your selection on the answer sheet by highlighting the relevant paragraph in yellow. Select only ONE answer. Candidates who select more than one answer will receive no mark for that specific question.

Question 1.1

Unlike (former) continental insolvency rules, the English insolvency laws provided for a rather liberal discharge of debt provision since 1570. Select the most accurate response to this statement from (a) – (d) below.

- (a) This statement is correct since the English insolvency system was viewed as a pro-creditor system since its early development.
- (b) This statement is correct since the English insolvency system, unlike continental systems, never provided for imprisonment for debt of insolvents and preferred to treat debtors in a humane way.
- (c) This statement is incorrect since a statutory discharge of debt was only introduced in 1705 in England.
- (d) This statement is incorrect since most of the continental insolvency rules provided for a liberal discharge of debt even before English law considered the introduction of such a dispensation.

Question 1.2

English insolvency law was not affected by the Covid-19 pandemic to date. Select the most accurate response to this statement from (a) – (d) below.

- (a) This statement is correct since the UK decided to merely provide financial aid to financially troubled entities and individuals.
- (b) This statement is correct since the legislative reform process in the UK is too slow to effect amendments to an elaborate piece of legislation such as its Insolvency Act of 1986.
- (c) This statement is correct since the English insolvency law already provided special rules to deal with extreme socio-economic situations like those brought about by global disasters such as the Covid-19 pandemic.
- (d) The statement is incorrect since the UK did review parts of its insolvency rules and amended some, amongst other things, to deal with the negative economic fall out of the pandemic.

Question 1.3

Since the Dutch insolvency system is rather outdated when compared with English or American insolvency / bankruptcy laws, it does not provide for a modern scheme of arrangement that could be used to reorganise or rescue a company in distress. Select the most accurate response to this statement from (a) – (d) below.

- (a) This statement is correct since the Dutch insolvency system does not provide for a discharge of debt and without such a dispensation in place, a scheme of arrangement will not be functional.
- (b) This statement is correct since the Dutch government has not approved such legislation yet.
- (c) This statement is incorrect since the Dutch in fact introduced new legislation in this regard in 2000 already.
- (d) This statement is incorrect since the Dutch quite recently adopted legislation in this regard and it became operational on 1 January 2021.

There is no real need for the reform and establishment of a more uniform set of cross-border insolvency rules since the courts of the various States around the globe are well-equipped to deal with such issues by way of judicial discretion and since the broad rules of local insolvency legal systems are largely the same. Select the most accurate response to this statement from (a) – (d) below.

- (a) This statement is correct since courts cooperating across jurisdictional borders are familiar with global insolvency principles.
- (b) This statement is correct since courts across the globe are inclined to apply comity as a principle to assist foreign estate representatives to deal with cross-border insolvency matters in a coherent way.
- (c) The statement is not correct since both local insolvency systems as well as cross-border insolvency rules differ quite significantly in many respects.

Universalism has become the main approach regarding the application of cross-border insolvency rules around the globe since the majority of States follow a strict adherence to comity. Select the most accurate response to this statement from (a) – (d) below.

- (a) The statement is not correct because very few States allow insolvent estate representatives to deal with assets of a foreign debtor situated in their own jurisdiction without some form of a (prior) local procedure to recognise the foreign insolvency proceeding.

(c) The statement is correct because the prevalent approach of modified territoriality amounts to a universal embracement of universalism amongst the majority of States around the globe.

This answer displays a satisfactory understanding. To improve your responses, ensure they are commensurate with the mark allocation – while Q 3.1 asks for a brief note, it is for 5 marks. It would be beneficial to elaborate upon how there could be a code or multiplicity of legislation depending upon the State and to elaborate upon how common law in common law countries as filling any gaps in law. Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks]

A number of difficulties arise in cross-border insolvencies, including as a result of differences in laws between States. Harmonisation of insolvency laws is pursued. In an attempt to bring the “cross-border” aspects and the “insolvency” aspects together, Fletcher asks three very pertinent questions. Discuss these pertinent questions / issues raised by Fletcher.

In an attempt to bring the “cross border” aspects and the “insolvency” aspects together, Fletcher asks three very pertinent questions, namely:

1. In which jurisdictions may insolvency proceedings be opened?

This question is relevant to avoid the parties making forum shopping whereby they would institute proceedings in various jurisdictions to cherry pick which jurisdiction/s has/have favorable outcome.

2. What country's law should be applied in respect of different aspects of the case?

Determination of which law to apply is relevant to determine competence of the part of the hearing forum and determine competence of the parties assisting on the matters (like the lawyers and insolvency practitioners)

3. What international effects will be accorded to proceedings conducted at a particular forum (including issues of enforcement)

The issues of recognition and enforcement of judgement issued by another jurisdiction is pertinent. There is no point winning a proceeding in one jurisdiction but the same is not recognized in the jurisdictions where the assets of the debtors are situation then ultimately the proceedings will be an exercise of futility for not being able to be enforced.

In answering the three questions posed by Fletcher, could insolvency proceedings possibly be opened concurrently in more than one State, each State would apply its own laws? What cooperation difficulties does this raise ?

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks]

It is said that “co-ordination agreements are sometimes known as Protocols or Cross-border Insolvency Agreements. Their growing acceptance internationally is evident in the work by the ALI-III in their Guidelines Applicable to Court-to-Court Communication in Cross-Border Cases; by UNICTRAL in their Practice Guide on Cross-border Insolvency Agreements; and by the Judicial Insolvency Network in their Guidelines for Communication and Cooperation between Courts in Cross-Border Insolvency Matters...”

It is also said that “While court approval of such agreements for the purposes of co-ordinating insolvency proceedings is encouraged by the MLCBI, they in fact pre-date the Model Law.”

Briefly discuss a prominent case law example for this last quotation.

The case of Maxwell Communication Corporation plc (Maxwell), which involved two primary insolvency proceedings initiated by a single debtor, one in the United States and the other in the United Kingdom, and the appointment of two different and separate insolvency representative in the two States, each charged with a similar responsibility.

On the issue of resolving potential conflicts and facilitate exchange of information, the judges in the US and UK have raised the idea of putting in place an insolvency agreement between the two administration proceedings, whose goals are (a) to maximize the value of the estate, and (b) harmonizing the proceedings to minimize expense, waste and jurisdictional conflict.

This answer displays a satisfactory understanding. To improve your responses, ensure they are commensurate with the mark allocation – while Q 3.3 asks for a brief note, it is for 5 marks.

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total]

Rydell Co Ltd (Rydell) is an incorporated company with offices in the UK and throughout Europe. Its centre of main interest (COMI) is in the UK. Rydell supplies engine parts for large vehicles, including airplanes, and has had a downturn in business due to border closures and travel restrictions throughout the Covid-19 pandemic.

Rydell's main creditor is Fernz Co Ltd (Fernz) which is incorporated in a country in Europe that is a member of the EU. Fernz is considering commencing proceedings or pursuing other options with respect to recovering unpaid debts from Rydell.

There are a number of other creditors owed money by Rydell, who are located throughout different countries in Europe which are all members of the European Union.

If you require additional information to answer the questions that follow, briefly state what information it is you require and why it is relevant.

Question 4.1 [maximum 7 marks]

An insolvency proceeding against Rydell was opened in the UK by a minor creditor on 18 June 2020. A month later, Fernz was considering also opening proceedings in another country in Europe which was a member of the European Union.

Discuss if and how the European Insolvency Regulation Recast would apply. Also note what further information, if any, you might require to fully consider this question.

Brexit happened on 31 January 2020. However, the Withdrawal Agreement between the UK and EU provides for the European Insolvency Regulation Recast (EIR) to continue to apply to insolvency proceedings where the main proceedings were opened before 31 December 2020. In this case, if the proceeding entered into by Fernz is considered as main proceeding, then the EIR will continue to apply in the UK.

In addition, UK courts may exercise jurisdiction because Rydell's centre of main interest is in the UK.

It would be beneficial to discuss how such secondary proceedings are permitted where the debtor has an "establishment". An establishment is defined as meaning "any place of operations ... where the debtor carries out a non-transitory economic activity with human means and assets"

It would be beneficial to consider the need for further information as to whether Rydell has an establishment in the other country in Europe where the other proceedings were intended to be commenced by Fernz.

Question 4.2 [maximum 3 marks]

How would your answer to 4.1 differ if the proceedings were opened in the UK on 18 June 2021 instead of 18 June 2020? Also note what further information, if any, might become relevant.

The answer will still be different because the transition period for the applicability of the EIR was only until 31 December 2020 for the main proceedings to be commenced. In this case, it is already beyond the said date.

However, the UK court may still exercise jurisdiction pursuant to the Insolvency (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 as amended by the Insolvency (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 ("Insolvency Amendment Regulations") if Rydell's centre of main interest is in the UK.

It would be beneficial to discuss the need for information as to whether the relevant countries in Europe had adopted the MLCBI and if not what laws would need to be considered in those countries.

Question 4.3 [maximum 5 marks]

Consider an alternative situation now. What if Rydell were unregistered with its COMI in a country in Europe that was a member of the European Union, instead of the UK, and formal insolvency proceedings were opened in the UK on 18 June 2021? What UK domestic laws would be relevant to consider whether the minor creditor could commence those formal insolvency proceedings in the UK?

Pursuant to the Insolvency Amendment Regulations, UK may exercise jurisdiction under the following circumstances:

1. the centre of the debtor's main interest is in the UK; or
2. the centre of the debtor's main interest is in a Member State and there is an establishment in the UK.

As the proceedings were opened beyond the 31 December 2020 where the EIR remains applicability for main insolvency proceeding commenced in the UK before the said date, the UK may exercise jurisdiction if Rydell's main interest is in a Member State and there is an establishment in the UK.

This answer displays a satisfactory understanding. To improve your responses, ensure they are commensurate with the mark allocation – the question is for 5 marks. It would be beneficial to discuss s221(5) Insolvency Act 1986 and how it pertains to unregistered companies.
