In this scenario, which of the following statements is the most correct one?

QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks in total]

Question 2.1 [maximum 3 marks] 3 marks

Under the MLCBI, explain what the appropriate date is for determining the COMI of a debtor, or whether an establishment exists.

At first, it is important to know that the Centre of Main Interest (COMI) of a debtor is a very important concept under the MLCBI because it will determine the type of foreign proceeding and the consequence of the proceeding. If the foreign proceeding commences where the debtor has its COMI, the proceeding will be recognized by a main proceeding, when the debtor will be benefit from the automatic relief.

On the other hand, if the proceeding commences where the debtor has an establishment, which is a place where he has any "place of operations where the debtor carries out a non-transitory economic activity with human means and good or services" (article 2 (f) of MLCBI) for the purposes of the MLCBI, it is recognized as a non-main proceeding, when it is applied to another type of relief that depends on the application by the foreign representative (article 21 of MLCBI).

So when we are talking about a recognition of a foreign proceeding related to insolvency matters under the MLCBI, know where is the COMI or the establishment of a debtor is very important.

It is also very important to decide, after the recognition where the COMI or establishment is located, when should be considered the appropriate date for determining the COMI or establishment because that place can move during the time.

The MLCBI doesn't provide a clear definition for COMI or the date that should be considered to determine those concepts, but the Guide to Enactment of The UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency interpretate this date as the date when the foreign proceeding commences.

It's important to note that this concept can have different interpretations depends on the State that will enact the MLCBI.

Question 2.2 [maximum 3 marks] 2 marks

The following three (3) statements relate to particular provisions / concepts to be found in the Model Law. Indicate the name of the provision / concept (as well as the relevant Model Law article), addressed in each statement.

Statement 1 "This Article provides guidance in case of concurrence of two foreign non-main proceedings."

Statement 2 "The rule in this Article does not affect secured claims."

Statement 3 "This Article contains a rebuttable presumption in respect of an undefined key concept in the MLCBI."

Statement 1 – Co-operation and coordination between the proceedings (article 30 (c) of MLCBI)

Statement 2 – The protection of creditors rights (article 32)

Statement 3 – Presumption of insolvency (article 31) art. 16(3)

Question 2.3 [2 marks] 1 mark

In the IBA case appeal, the English Court of Appeal upheld the decision that the court should not exercise its power to grant the indefinite Moratorium Continuation. Please explain.

In short, on the IBA case the English Court discuss if the requirement for an indefinite Moratorium Continuation made by Azeri foreign representative under article 21 of MLCBI could be accepted to prevent England creditors to claim for their credits against the debtor. The creditors were based on the Gibbs Rule, an English law that preserves the creditors rights in case of the debtor commences an insolvency proceeding.

The requirement was denied for the first judge and came to decision by the English Court of Appeal. To judge this case, the court decide highlighted two different points: first, based on the MLCBI the relief granted to the debtor has to be given in the interest of the creditors and second the debtor should have proven that without this moratorium the restructuring plan that was already approved by creditors would fail if those English creditors enforced their credits.

The English Court of Appeal decided not grant the moratorium because that measure would not benefit the English creditors and the foreign representative didn't prove that those future claims would jeopardize the restructuring plan approved under the foreign proceeding.

Besides that, the court noted that the debtor could try approving an restructuring plan in the UK, where those creditors could be enforced to accept.

It should also be mentioned that Based on Article 18 of the MLCBI, the English Court of Appeal in the IBA case appeal held that had the MLCBI ever contemplated the continuance of relief after the end of the relevant foreign proceeding, it would have addressed the question explicitly and provided appropriate machinery for that purpose.

Question 2.4 [2 marks] 2 marks

In terms of relief, what should the court in an enacting State, where a domestic proceeding has already been opened in respect of the debtor, do after recognition of a foreign main proceeding? In your answer you should mention the most relevant article of the MLCBI. What (ongoing) duty of information does the foreign representative in the foreign main proceeding have towards the court in the enacting State? Here too you are required to mention the most relevant article of the MLCBI.

According to article 29 (a) (i) and (ii) of MLCBI, when the enacting State recognize a main proceeding related to insolvency matter against a debtor who already has an insolvency non-main proceeding in its jurisdiction, the automatic relief (article 20) isn't applied, and any other relief granted (as the appropriated relief or the interim collective relief grand prior t recognition) must be consistent with the domestic proceeding. That happen because the proceeding under the domestic jurisdiction has primacy on the foreign proceeding.

Once the foreign main proceeding is recognized on the enacting state, the foreign representative has the obligation to let the court on the enacting state inform about the status of the foreign proceeding and the foreign representative's appointments (article 18 of MLCBI).

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total]

A foreign representative of a foreign proceeding opened in State B in respect of a corporate debtor (the Debtor) is considering whether or not to make a recognition application under the implemented Model Law of State A (which does not contain any reciprocity provision). In addition, the foreign representative is also considering what (if any) relief may be appropriate to request from the court in State A.

Write a brief essay in which you address the three questions below.

Question 3.1 [maximum 4 marks] 1

Prior to making a recognition application in State A, explain how access and co-ordination rights in State A can benefit the foreign representative?

One of the goals of the MLCBI is promote co-ordination between States involved in Cross-Border Insolvency proceedings and one way to pursuit that is opening the access to the foreign representative before the recognition of a foreign proceeding. That right given to the foreign representative is under the article 9 of MLCBI.

When the foreign representative has access to the court and to the insolvency system of the State it will be possible to know how rights the debtor has in that State, what are the benefits given to the creditors debtor and if those benefits are the same as the creditors has where the proceeding was opened, and which is the reliefs available in that system.

Besides that, the access is important to know if a recognition of the foreign proceeding will bring any benefits for the insolvency process in general and how will works the co-ordination between both States.

For full marks

- Opening domestic insolvency proceedings (Article 11 MLCBI): The foreign representative is further specifically entitled to apply for the opening of domestic insolvency proceedings in State A, as reflected in Article 11 of the MLCBI. Whether or not the foreign representative would wish to do this will depend on what the requirements are for opening such domestic proceedings. Can these requirements be met? On the other hand, it will depend on what the foreign representative believes he/she can get in terms of (interim) relief for the foreign proceedings in State B. In other words, are domestic insolvency proceedings really needed, or just additional time and costs that should be avoided?
- Cooperation: Similar to access rights, the cooperation provisions in the MLCBI (articles 25-27) also operate independently of recognition and it is not a prerequisite to the use of the cooperation provisions that recognition of the foreign proceedings is obtained in advance. Courts in State A can freely cooperate with the foreign representative without having to worry whether the status in State B of the foreign representative can be recognised in State A.
- Save Time & Costs: The key benefits of both the access provisions and the cooperation provisions are that they save time and therefore also costs, as a result of which value destruction can be avoided and value enhancement is being promoted.

Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks] 2 marks

For a recognition application in State A to be successful, the foreign proceeding opened in State B must qualify as a "foreign proceeding" within the meaning of article 2(a) of the MLCBI and the "foreign representative" must qualify as a foreign representative within the meaning of article 2(d) of the MLCBI. Assuming both qualify as such, list and briefly explain (with reference to the relevant MLCBI articles) any other evidence, restrictions, exclusions and limitations that must be considered, as well as the judicial scrutiny that must be overcome for a recognition application to be successful.

The foreign representative may apply for recognition of a foreign proceeding on state where the debtor has any economic interest or connection. The recognition will facilitate the communication between those countries and will simplify the hole process.

This application must be made with proves that (i) the foreign proceeding was commenced, and (ii) the foreign representative is legitimated to represent the debtor on this recognition. Those proves are presumed authentic by the MLCBI (article 16, 2).

The MLCBI have a flexible approach on those documents, so it's just necessary any document that is acceptable by the court (article 15, paragraph (1) (a)-(c) of MLCBI). Besides that, the foreign representative must declare if is to his knowledge that this debtor has more foreign proceedings related to insolvency (article 15, paragraph 3).

Once received those documents, the court can require an translation for those documents (article 15, paragraph 4) and after analyse if the application meets all requirements of the law (as the compulsory documents, the right court etc) will recognize the proceeding as a main proceeding (if it was commenced where the debtor has his COMI) or a non-main proceeding (if it was commenced where the debtor has an establishment) and grant the relief that is appropriated on the case (paragraphs 1-3 of article 17 and articles 19-21).

For full marks:

1. Exclusions: If the debtor is an entity that is subject to a special insolvency regime in State B, the foreign representative should first of all check if the foreign proceedings regarding that type of a debtor are excluded in State A based on Article 1(2) of the implemented Model Law in State A.
2. Restrictions;- Existing international obligations of State A: Based on Article 3 of the Model Law, the court in State A should also check if there are no existing international obligations of State A (under a treaty or otherwise) that may conflict with granting the recognition application under the implemented Model Law in State A.

3. Public policy exception: Finally, the court in State A should also ensure based on Article 6 of the Model Law that the recognition application is not manifestly contrary to public policy of State A.

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks] 3 marks

As far as relief is concerned, briefly explain (with reference to the relevant MLCBI articles) what pre- and post-recognition relief can be considered in the context of the MLCBI, as well as any restrictions, limitations or conditions that should be considered in this context. For purposes of this question, it can be assumed that there is no concurrence of proceedings.

Before the decision about the recognition of a foreign proceeding, the foreign representative can apply for the so called interim collective relief under the article 19 of MLCBI. In that case, the court of the state where the recognition is applied may grant some relief as a staying execution against the debtor's assets (article 19, (1) (a)-(c)) based on the urgency proved by the foreign representative in protect the assets or creditors interests. If approved, this interim collective relief will produce effects until the decision made for the court (article 19, (3) of MLCBI).

Once the recognition is approved by the court, the relief granted for the debtor will depends on the type of proceeding that was opened on the foreign State. If was commenced main proceeding, which is the one commenced where the debtor has his COMI, will be granted an automatic relief in terms of article 20 of MLCBI.

On the other hand, if the foreign proceeding is a non-main proceeding, the foreign representative will need to make an application for the appropriate relief under article 21 of MLCBI.

It's important to note that the appropriate relief can be limited by the court because is a matter of soveignty and both interim collective relief and appropriated relief can be modified or terminated by the court if it intends that this will guarantee more protection to creditors or interested persons (article 22 (3) of MLCBI).

For full marks, the answer should also include:
1. Existing international obligations of State A: Based on Article 3 of the Model Law, the court in State A should again verify that there are no existing international obligations of State A (under a treaty or otherwise) that may conflict with granting the requested relief under the implemented Model Law in State A.
2. Public policy exception: The court in State A should, based on Article 6 of the Model Law, also again verify that the relief application is not manifestly contrary to public policy of State A.

Question 3.4 [maximum 1 mark] ½ mark

Briefly explain why a worldwide freezing order granted as pre-recognition interim relief ex article 19 MLCBI, is unlikely to continue post-recognition ex article 21 MLCBI?

The collecting measures under the article 19 of MLCBI are granted – prior to the recognition – when the relief is needed to protect the assets of the debtor or the interests of creditors and because of that, those measures should be giving for a short period of the time.

When the foreign proceeding is recognized, the paragraph 3 in the article 19 of MLCBI provides that those reliefs should be terminate but the court may, after requested by the foreign representative, extend those measures (article 21 (1) (f) of MLCBI).

Here it should be mentioned that art. 21 provides for other forms for protection leaving the freezing order un-warranted.

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total] 5 marks

Read the following facts very carefully before answering the questions that follow.

(1) Background

The Commercial Bank for Business Corporation (the Bank) has operated since 1991. The Bank's registered office is situated in Country A, which has not adopted the MLCBI. As of 13 August 2015, the Bank's majority ultimate beneficial owner was Mr Z, who held approximately 95% of the Bank's shares through various corporate entities (including some registered in England).

The Bank entered provisional administration on 17 September 2015 and liquidation on 17 December 2015. Investigations into the Bank have revealed that it appears to have been potentially involved in a multi-million dollar fraud resulting in monies being sent to many overseas companies, including entities incorporated and registered in England.

Proceedings were issued in the High Court of England and Wales (Chancery Division) against various defendants on 11 February 2021 (the English Proceedings).

An affidavit (the Affidavit) sets out a detailed summary of the legislation of Country A's specific insolvency procedure for Banks. The procedure involves initial input from the National Bank (the NB) and at the time that the Bank entered liquidation, followed a number of stages:

Classification of the bank as troubled

The NB may classify a bank as "troubled" if it meets at least one of the criteria set down by article 75 of the Law of Country A on Banks and Banking Activity (LBBA) or for any of the reasons specified in its regulations.

Once declared "troubled", the relevant bank has 180 days within which to bring its activities in line with the NB's requirements. At the end of that period, the NB must either recognise the Bank as compliant, or must classify it as insolvent.

Classification of the bank as insolvent

The NB is obliged to classify a bank as insolvent if it meets the criteria set out in article 76 of the LBBA, which includes:

(i) the bank's regulatory capital amount or standard capital ratios have reduced to one third of the minimum level specified by law;

(ii) within five consecutive working days, the bank has failed to meet 2% or more of its obligations to depositors or creditors; and

(iii) the bank, having been declared as troubled, then fails to comply with an order or decision of the NB and / or a request by the NB to remedy violations of the banking law.

The NB has the ability to classify a bank as insolvent without necessarily needing to first go through the troubled stage. Article 77 of the LBBA accordingly provides that a bank can be liquidated by the NB directly, revoking its licence.

Provisional administration

The Deposit Guarantee Fund (DGF) is a governmental body of Country A tasked principally with providing deposit insurance to bank depositors in Country A. However, the Affidavit explained that the DGF is also responsible for the process of withdrawing insolvent banks from the market and winding down their operations via liquidation. Its powers include those related to early detection and intervention, and the power to act in a bank's interim or provisional administration and its ultimate liquidation.

Pursuant to article 34 of the DGF Law, once a bank has been classified as insolvent, the DGF will begin the process of removing it from the market. This is often achieved with an initial period of provisional administration. During this period:

(i) the DGF (acting via an authorised officer) begins the process of directly administering the bank's affairs. Articles 35(5) and 36(1) of the DGF Law provide that during provisional administration, the DGF shall have full and exclusive rights to manage the bank and all powers of the bank's management.

(ii) Article 36(5) establishes a moratorium which prevents, inter alia: the claims of depositors or creditors being satisfied; execution or enforcement against the bank's assets; encumbrances and restrictions being created over the bank's property; and interest being charged.

Liquidation

Liquidation follows provisional administration. The DGF is obliged to commence liquidation proceedings against a bank on or before the next working day after the NB's decision to revoke the bank's licence.

Article 77 of the LBBA provides that the DGF automatically becomes liquidator of a bank on the date it receives confirmation of the NB's decision to revoke the bank's licence. At that point, the DGF acquires the full powers of a liquidator under the law of Country A.

When the bank enters liquidation, all powers of the bank's management and control bodies are terminated (as are the provisional administrators' powers if the bank is first in provisional administration); all banking activities are terminated; all money liabilities due to the bank are deemed to become due; and, among other things, the DGF alienates the bank's property and funds. Public encumbrances and restrictions on disposal of bank property are terminated and offsetting of counter-claims is prohibited.

As liquidator, the DGF has extensive powers, including the power to investigate the bank's history and bring claims against parties believed to have caused its downfall. Those powers include:

(i) the power to exercise management powers and take over management of the property (including the money) of the bank;

(ii) the power to compile a register of creditor claims and to seek to satisfy those claims;

(iii) the power to take steps to find, identify and recover property belonging to the bank;

(iv) the power to dismiss employees and withdraw from/terminate contracts;

(v) the power to dispose of the bank's assets; and

(vi) the power to exercise "such other powers as are necessary to complete the liquidation of a bank".

The DGF also has powers of sale, distribution and the power to bring claims for compensation against persons for harm inflicted on the insolvent bank.

However, article 48(3) of the DGF Law empowers the DGF to delegate its powers to an "authorised officer" or "authorised person". The "Fund's authorised person" is defined by article 2(1)(17) of the DGF Law as: "an employee of the Fund, who on behalf of the Fund and within the powers provided for by this Law and / or delegated by the Fund, performs actions to ensure the bank's withdrawal from the market during provisional administration of the insolvent bank and/or bank liquidation".

Article 35(1) of the DGF Law specifies that an authorised person, must have: "…high professional and moral qualities, impeccable business reputation, complete higher education in the field of economics, finance or law…and professional experience necessary." An authorised person may not be a creditor of the relevant bank, have a criminal record, have any obligations to the relevant bank, or have any conflict of interest with the bank. Once appointed, the authorised officer is accountable to the DGF for their actions and may exercise the powers delegated to them by the DGF in pursuance of the bank's liquidation.

The DGF's independence is addressed at articles 3(3) and 3(7) of the DGF Law which confirm that it is an economically independent institution with separate balance sheet and accounts from the NB and that neither public authorities nor the NB have any right to interfere in the exercise of its functions and powers.

Article 37 establishes that the DGF (or its authorised person, insofar as such powers are delegated) has extensive powers, including powers to exercise managerial and supervisory powers, to enter into contracts, to restrict or terminate the bank's transactions, and to file property and non-property claims with a court.

(2) The Bank's liquidation

The Bank was formally classified by the NB as "troubled" on 19 January 2015. The translated NB resolution records:

> "The statistical reports-based analysis of the Bank's compliance with the banking law requirements has found that the Bank has been engaged in risky operations."

Those operations included:

(i) a breach, for eight consecutive reporting periods, of the NB's minimum capital requirements;

(ii) 10 months of loss-making activities;

(iii) a reduction in its holding of highly liquid assets;

(iv) a critically low balance of funds held with the NB; and

(v) 48% of the Bank's liabilities being dependent on individuals and a significant increase in "adversely classified assets" which are understood to be loans, whose full repayment has become questionable.

Despite initially appearing to improve, by September 2015 the Bank's financial position had deteriorated further with increased losses, a further reduction in regulatory capital and numerous complaints to the NB. On 17 September 2015, the NB classified the Bank as insolvent pursuant to article 76 of the LBBA. On the same day, the DGF passed a resolution commencing the process of withdrawing the Bank from the market and appointing Ms C as interim administrator.

Three months later, on 17 December 2015, the NB formally revoked the Bank's banking licence and resolved that it be liquidated. The following day, the DGF initiated the liquidation procedure and appointed Ms C as the first of the DGF's authorised persons to whom powers of the liquidator were delegated. Ms C was replaced as authorised officer with effect from 17 August 2020 by Ms G.

Ms G's appointment was pursuant to a Decision of the Executive Board of the Directors of the DGF, No 1513 (Resolution 1513). Resolution 1513 notes that Ms G is a "leading bank liquidation professional". It delegates to her all liquidation powers in respect of the Bank set out in the DGF Law and in particular articles 37, 38, 47-52, 521 and 53 of the DGF Law, including the authority to sign all agreements related to the sale of the bank's assets in the manner prescribed by the DGF Law. Resolution 1513 expressly excludes from Ms G's authority the power to claim damages from a related party of the Bank, the power to make a claim against a non-banking financial institution that raised money as loans or deposits from individuals, and the power to arrange for the sale of the Bank's assets. Each of the excluded powers remains vested in the DGF as the Bank's formally appointed liquidator.

On 14 December 2020, the Bank's liquidation was extended to an indefinite date, described as arising when circumstances rendered the sale of the Bank's assets and satisfaction of creditor's claims, no longer possible.

On 7 September 2020, the DGF resolved to approve an amended list of creditors' claims totalling approximately USD 1.113 billion. The Affidavit states that the Bank's current, estimated deficiency exceeds USD 823 million.

QUESTION 4.1 [maximum 15 marks]

Prior to any determination made in the English Proceedings, Ms G, in her capacity as authorised officer of the Deposit Guarantee Fund (or DGF) of Country A in respect of the liquidation of the Commercial Bank for Business Corporation (the Bank), together with the DGF (the Applicants), applied for recognition of the liquidation of the Bank before the English court based on the Cross-Border Insolvency Regulations 2006 (CBIR), the English adopted version of the MLCBI.

Assuming you are the judge in the English court considering this recognition application, you are required to discuss:

4.1.1 whether the Bank's liquidation comprises a "foreign proceeding" within the meaning of article 2(a) of the MLCBI [maximum 10 marks]; 3 marks and

4.1.2 whether the Applicants fall within the description of "foreign representatives" as defined by article 2(d) of the MLCBI [maximum 5 marks]. 3 marks

While not all facts provided in the fact pattern for this question (Question 4) are immediately relevant for your answer, please do use, where appropriate, those relevant facts that directly support your answer.

For the purpose of this question, you may further assume that the Bank is not excluded from the scope of the MLCBI by article 1(2) of the MLCBI.

The MLCBI defines a foreign proceeding in article 2(a) as "a collective judicial or administrative proceeding in a foreign State, including an interim proceeding, pursuant to a law relating to insolvency in which proceeding the assets and affairs of the debtor are subject to control or supervision by a foreign court, for the purpose of reorganization or liquidation".

As a foreign court, the MLCBI defines it as "a judicial or other authority competent to control or supervise a foreign proceeding".

Based on the facts that were given, The Bank is under a collective administrative proceeding in a foreign State (Country A).

This proceeding is a liquidation, as recognized by the National Bank, with authority competent to do so under Country's A Law. The purpose of liquidation is also demonstrated on the fact that the Bank had closed its business after the license was revoked by the National Bank. And the Deposit Guarantee Found (DGF), who works as a liquidator, has the power to manage the Bank and also powers "of sale, distribution and the power to bring claims for compensation against persons for harm inflicted on the insolvent bank".

It was also granted to the debtor a moratorium to give time to the DGF to realize the assets of the bank and provide an equal treatment of the creditors, who will need to wait for the DGF to finish the administrative process of selling before receiving its credits.

It's important to note that the MLCBI is presumed authentic and legalized all documents submitted in support of the recognition, so the affidavit with the explanation about how the insolvency system works in Country A is presumed authentic.

Due to all exposed above, it's possible to understand that The Bank's liquidation comprises the requirements to be acceptable as a foreign proceeding.

This answer should have included a much more detailed explanation a long the following lines:
Recognition of the Bank's liquidation under the CBIR

1. In order to be recognised, the Bank's liquidation must meet the definition of "foreign proceeding" set out in article 2(a) of the MCBI.
2. Here reference can also Be made to paragraphs 6.4.1 and 6.4.2 of the Guidance Text and in particular the Agrokor case discussed there.

"Collective proceeding"

3. UNCITRAL's guide for judiciary, "The Model Law on Insolvency: The Judicial Perspective" (2013) explains the requirement for proceedings to be "collective":

> "The UNCITRAL Model Law was intended to apply only to particular types of insolvency proceedings. The Guide to Enactment and Interpretation indicates that the notion of a "collective" insolvency proceeding is based on the desirability of achieving a coordinated, global solution for all stakeholders of an insolvency proceeding. It is not intended that the Model Law be used merely as a collection device for a particular creditor or group of creditors who might have initiated a collection proceeding in another State, or as a tool for gathering up assets in a winding up or conservation proceeding that does not also include provision for addressing the claims of creditors. The Model Law may be an appropriate tool for certain kinds of actions that serve a regulatory purpose, such as receiverships for such publicly regulated entities as insurance companies or brokerage firms, provided the proceeding is collective as that term is used in the Model Law."

4. The Guide to Enactment and Interpretation of the UNCITRAL Model Law (2014) explains that when:

> "evaluating whether a given proceeding is collective for the purpose of the Model Law, a key consideration is whether substantially all of the assets and liabilities of the debtor are dealt with in the proceeding, subject to local priorities and statutory exceptions, and to local exclusions relating to the rights of secured creditors. A proceeding should not be considered to fail the test of collectivity purely because a class of creditors' rights is unaffected by it."

5. Based on the facts provided the understanding is that all of the Bank's creditors are entitled to claim in the liquidation and that their claims are met from available assets, according to the statutory order of priorities. Consequently, the conclusion can be reached that the Bank's liquidation is a "collective proceeding".

"Judicial or administrative"* and *"subject to the control or supervision by a foreign court"

6. The collective proceeding, must be "judicial or administrative" where "the assets and affairs or the debtor are subject to control or supervision by a foreign court".
7. The term "foreign court" is defined at article 2(e) of the MLCBI and means: "a judicial or other authority competent to control or supervise a foreign proceeding".
8. The Guide to Enactment notes: "87) A foreign proceeding that meets the requisites of article 2, subparagraph (a), should receive the same treatment irrespective of whether it has been commenced and supervised by a judicial body or an administrative body. Therefore, in order to obviate the need to refer to a foreign non-judicial authority whenever reference is made to a foreign court, the definition of "foreign court" in subparagraph (e) includes also non-judicial authorities."
9. In Re Sanko Steamship Co Ltd [2015] EWHC 1031 (Ch) Simon Barker QC, noted that a foreign proceeding may be recognised where the control or supervision of the proceeding is undertaken by a non-judicial administrative body.
10. The Guide to Enactment states: "74) The Model Law specifies neither the level of control or supervision required to satisfy this aspect of the definition nor the time at which that control or supervision should arise. Although it is intended that the control or supervision required under subparagraph (a) should be formal in nature, it may be potential rather than actual. As noted in paragraph 71, a proceeding in which the debtor retains some measure of control over its assets, albeit under court supervision, such as a debtor-in-possession would satisfy this requirement. Control or supervision may be exercised not only directly by the court but also by an insolvency representative where, for example, the insolvency representative is subject to control or supervision by the court. Mere supervision of an insolvency representative by a licensing authority would not be sufficient."
11. In this case the DGF has control of all of the Bank's assets and overall control of the liquidation.
12. The DGF's independence is addressed at articles 3(3) and 3(7) of the DGF Law which confirm that it is an economically independent institution with separate balance sheet and accounts from the NB and that neither public authorities nor the NB have any right to interfere in the exercise of its functions and powers.

13. Article 37 establishes that the DGF (or its authorised person, insofar as such powers are delegated) has extensive powers, including powers to exercise managerial and supervisory powers, to enter into contracts, to restrict or terminate the bank's transactions, and to file property and non-property claims with a court.
14. Taking these factors into account, the Bank's liquidation is administrative. The assets and affairs of the Bank are subject to the control of the DGF, an official body which exercises its powers in the liquidation free from intervention by government or the NB and which should be considered, for the purposes of the definition set out in article 2(e) of the MLCBI, as a "foreign court".

"Pursuant to a law relating to insolvency"

15. The Guide to Enactment provides at paragraph 48:

> "Acknowledging that different jurisdictions might have different notions of what falls within the term "insolvency proceedings", the Model Law does not define the term "insolvency". However, as used in the Model Law, the word "insolvency" refers to various types of collective proceedings commenced with respect to debtors that are in severe financial distress or insolvent."

Further explanation is provided at paragraph 73:

> "This formulation is used in the Model Law to acknowledge the fact that liquidation and reorganization might be conducted under law that is not labelled as insolvency law (e.g. company law), but which nevertheless deals with or addresses insolvency or severe financial distress. The purpose was to find a description that was sufficiently broad to encompass a range of insolvency rules irrespective of the type of statute or law in which they might be contained and irrespective of whether the law that contained the rules related exclusively to insolvency."

16. Article 76 of the LBBA clearly set out Country A's specific insolvency procedures for insolvent banks. The Bank's liquidation was commenced pursuant to those provisions and in my judgment should be considered by this Court as being "pursuant to a law relating to insolvency".

"In which proceeding the assets and affairs of the debtor are subject to control or supervision by a foreign court, for the purpose of reorganisation or liquidation"

17. Having determined that the DGF falls within the definition of "foreign court", I am satisfied, that by virtue of the legislative provisions set out above, it has control of all of the Bank's assets and affairs for the purposes of administering the Bank's liquidation.

About the foreign representative, the MLCBI establish that is "a person or body, including one appointed on an interim basis, authorized in a foreign proceeding to administer the reorganization or the liquidation of the debtor's assets or affairs or to act as a representative of the foreign proceeding".

Based on the facts given, the Deposit Guarantee Found has all powers to manage and administrate the assets and the affairs of the debtor in the foreign State, as follows:

> "The DGF (acting via an authorized officer) begins the process of directly administering the bank's affairs. Articles 35(5) and 36(1) of the DGF Law provide that during provisional administration, the DGF shall have full and exclusive rights to manage the bank and all powers of the bank's management."

It is also said that DGF has power to file a petition in court:

> "Article 37 establishes that the DGF (or its authorized person, insofar as such powers are delegated) has extensive powers, including powers to exercise managerial and supervisory powers, to enter into contracts, to restrict or terminate the bank's transactions, and to file property and non-property claims with a court"

Because of that, the DGF can be accepted as a foreign representative from The Bank.

However, the same interpretation can't be given to Ms. G, who, despite being a person appointed by DGF and having some power of administration, expressly has no power to represent the Bank in court or to sell the Bank's asset, as follows:

> "Resolution 1513 expressly excludes from Ms G's authority the power to claim damages from a related party of the Bank, the power to make a claim against a non-banking financial institution that raised money as loans or deposits from individuals, and the power to arrange for the sale of the Bank's assets. Each of the excluded powers remains vested in the DGF as the Bank's formally appointed liquidator"

Based on all facts above, I conclude that just DGF has the power to act as a foreign representative to the Bank and to apply for foreign recognition.

This is also inadequate. There is no explanation of the requirements, i.e. what does it mean to be appointed, authorised and administer.
