QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks]

Question 2.1 [maximum 2 marks]

Explain what the term "international insolvency law" means.

International insolvency law is a situation where insolvency occurs in circumstances that exceed the confines of a singular legal system in such a way that a single set of domestic laws cannot be applied without due regard to the issues raised by the foreign elements of the case.

Question 2.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Differentiate between the concepts of universality and territoriality in cross-border insolvency.

Universality under cross-border insolvency indicates that there should only be one setting for international insolvency cases. Ideally, only one forum should be present and have singular jurisdiction over all the case elements. Territoriality, on the other hand, indicates that insolvency proceedings should be opened in every single jurisdiction where the debtor has assets. Under territoriality, multiple insolvency proceedings would run concurrently with the same debtor. In this regard, universality and territoriality are diametrically opposed.

There is scope to elaborate with respect to recognition and effect in that for example, with universalism, recognition and effect requires that other States recognise that one set insolvency proceedings (that all agreed is the appropriate jurisdiction) and recognise it as having extraterritorial effect in their States.

Question 2.3 [maximum 3 marks]

Describe three recent examples of developments in the Middle East region to reform domestic insolvency laws or to address international insolvency Issues.

In the Middle East, the first-ever comparative study of insolvency systems across the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) occurred in 2009 in collaboration with the World Bank, OECD, INSOL, and the Hawkama Institute. . [what impact did this have on reforming domestic insolvency laws or addressing international insolvency Issues in the Middle East?]

Recently, some Middle East countries have reformed their policies regarding insolvency systems. Specifically, the UAE in 2016 and 2019, Dubai in 2019, and Saudi Arabia in 2018. Further, in support of international insolvency law specifically, Bahrain adopted the Model Law on Cross Border Insolvency in 2018. The Dubai International Financial Center adopted the same in 2019.

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total]

Question 3.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the differences regarding the objectives of insolvency for individuals and corporations.

The objectives for insolvency for individuals include: protecting them from harassment from their creditors, offering the individual an opportunity to start over, especially in instances where the debtor is not blameworthy for their situation, and reducing the sense of indebtedness by allowing payments of the debt from the debtor's estate, past and future income while taking into account their circumstances. The objectives for insolvency for a corporation include: preserving the business or any viable components of the business and imposing personal liability on relevant persons where personal liability has been abused

This answer displays a satisfactory understanding of the issues. To improve your responses, ensure they are commensurate with the mark allocation – while Q 3.1 asks for a brief note, it is for 5 marks.

Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the difficulties that may be encountered when dealing with insolvency law in a cross-border context relating to pertinent differences in the relevant systems.

Some of the major difficulties that may be encountered when dealing with insolvency law in a cross-border context relating to pertinent differences in the relevant systems include:

the standing or recognition of a foreign representative in the local jurisdiction, moratorium on creditor actions, creditor participation, executory nature of contracts, co-ordinated claims procedures, priorities and references, avoidance provisions powers, discharges, and conflict of law issues.

Further detail would be beneficial.

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks]

What multilateral steps have been taken in the 21st century to promote harmonisation of domestic insolvency laws? In your opinion, how much impact are these likely to have in addressing international insolvency issues? Include reasons for your opinion.

The UNICTRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency is an example of a multilateral step taken in the 21st century to promote the harmonization of domestic laws. It mandates cooperation and co-ordination of courts in an international insolvency setting.

The American Law Institute (ALI) adopted the NAFTA Transnational Insolvency Project to promote court-to-court communication in cross-border cases. The guidelines were set in 2001 and continue to guide local court approaches.

The Judicial Insolvency Network comprises insolvency judges from across the globe who aim to provide leadership and guidance in the field of international insolvency laws. Their roles as guides of the principals of insolvency are vital in ensuring continuity in the field.

Other multilateral approaches include the UNICTRAL's general colloquium Modernizing International Trade Law to Support Innovation and Sustainable Development, the International Institute for the Unification of Private Law, the International Lawyer Association, the International Bar Association, the International Insolvency Institute, and INSOL International.

There is scope to elaborate regarding your opinion on how much impact these are likely to have in addressing international insolvency issues and to consider political pressure, foreign investor pressure and/or loan conditions.

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total]

Nadir Pty Ltd (Nadir) is a company registered in Utopia. Originally it was incorporated in the neighbouring country of Erewhon before moving its registration and head office to Utopia one month ago. Apex Pty Ltd (Apex) is incorporated and has its head office in Erewhon. Apex and Nadir enter into a contract by exchange of emails between their head offices for Apex to supply goods to Nadir in Utopia. Nadir has failed to pay for the goods which have been delivered in accordance with the contract. Apex issues court proceedings against Nadir in Utopia for monies owing for the goods sold and delivered.

Meanwhile, Nadir also owes monies to creditors in Erewhon. One Erewhon creditor obtains a court winding-up order against Nadir in Erewhon and a liquidator is also appointed by that court.

If you require additional information to answer the questions that follow, briefly state what information it is you require and why it is relevant.

Question 4.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Assume the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency has been adopted by Utopia without modification, except as required to domesticate it. For example, the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia names its local laws relating to insolvency and its competent court under the Act. The Erewhon liquidator's investigations detect that Apex is suing Nadir in Utopia. The liquidator would like to stop Apex court action against Nadir in Utopia. Advise the Erewhon liquidator on the potential relevance of the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia.

Article 13 of the Act indicates that foreign creditors have the same rights to access proceedings as local creditors. The actions of foreign creditors are not to be ranked lower than those of local creditors. Therefore, the liquidator cannot stop Apex court action against Nadir in Utopia on this basis.

Detailed application of the articles relevant for the recognition and relief, including on COMI/establishment and on foreign main / non-main proceedings) was required for this fact-based application-type question.

Question 4.2 [maximum 2 marks]

Would it make any difference to your answer in question 4.1 in the following two alternative scenarios to Apex suing for its debt?

- (a) Apex had filed proceedings to wind-up Nadir, but the matter had not yet been heard.
- (b) Apex had obtained a court order to wind-up Nadir in Utopia prior to the Erewhon winding-up order.

In scenario A, it would make a difference as the matter was not yet heard. In scenario B, the court order obtained would be effective in winding up as the proceedings take priority over the liquidation of the firm.

Apply the MLCBI provisions on concurrent insolvency proceedings (see Article 29)

Question 4.3 [maximum 8 marks]

NB: This question is not related to Questions 4.1 and 4.2

A court has ordered the commencement of an insolvency proceeding against a corporate debtor in the State of its incorporation and head office. The company has operated business in a number of States and has assets (real property or interest in land, other tangible assets and intangible assets); creditors (including taxation / revenue authorities) and directors in several States.

Select a country for the company's incorporation and, based on the insolvency laws of the country you select and the brief facts provided, describe four key international insolvency issues facing the insolvency representative in this scenario. For each issue, what domestic laws or international instruments apply to assist the insolvency representative address these four issues?

The country selected is the United Kingdom. The four international insolvency issues facing the representative in this scenario include starting proceedings in a foreign state, the presence of assets in different states, the presence of creditors in different states, and the jurisdiction of a court to order insolvency proceedings in a different state.

Regarding the jurisdiction of a foreign court to order proceedings in a different state, the EU Cross-Border Insolvency Court-to-Court Communications Guidelines (2014) is in place to ensure effective communication across the two jurisdictions. Regarding starting proceedings in a different state, the international instrument is the UNICTRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency. Regarding the presence of assets in different states, the Enterprise Act 2002 is in place to facilitate the same. Lastly, regarding the presence of creditors in different states, the UNICTRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency applies
