ANSWER ALL THE QUESTIONS

QUESTION 1 (multiple-choice questions) [10 marks in total]

Questions 1.1. – 1.10. are multiple-choice questions designed to assess your ability to think critically about the subject. Please read each question carefully before reading the answer options. Be aware that some questions may seem to have more than one right answer, but you are to look for the one that makes the most sense and is the most correct. When you have a clear idea of the question, find your answer and mark your selection on the answer sheet by highlighting the relevant paragraph in yellow. Select only ONE answer. Candidates who select more than one answer will receive no mark for that specific question.

QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks]

Question 2.1 [maximum 2 marks]

Explain what the term "international insolvency law" means.

Wessels defines international insolvency law as the section of law concerning insolvency proceedings that cannot be entirely enforced, due to the international aspect of the case requiring consideration before any immediate or exclusive action can be taken.

This draws on relevant information from the Module's materials. It would be improved if it also included more information in your own words to indicate your personal understanding.

1.5

Question 2.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Differentiate between the concepts of universality and territoriality in cross-border insolvency.

Universality refers to the approach wherein there is only one insolvency proceeding covering all debts in a cross-border insolvency case. The insolvency law of the State where the debtor has its centre of main interests (COMI) will be applicable to the other jurisdictions in which there are debts. In contrast, territorialism follows the approach that insolvency proceedings may be commenced in every jurisdiction in which the debtors have assets, with all assets being territorially limited and restricted to the State in which they are located. Territorialism can lead to a plurality of insolvency proceedings across all States in which debts are located.

There is scope to elaborate with respect to recognition and effect in that for example, with universalism, recognition and effect requires that other States recognise that one set insolvency proceedings (that all agreed is the appropriate jurisdiction) and recognise it as having extraterritorial effect in their States.

Question 2.3 [maximum 3 marks]

Describe three recent examples of developments in the Middle East region to reform domestic insolvency laws or to address international insolvency Issues.

Bahrain and the Dubai International Financial Centre adopted the Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency and in 2018 and 2019 respectively. In 2018, Saudi Arabia approved the Bankruptcy Law which included general regulations, preventative actions and measures for financial restructuring. In 2019, Dubai International Financial Centre enacted the DIFC Insolvency Law, paving the way for a more efficient and effective restructuring regime.

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total]

Question 3.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the differences regarding the objectives of insolvency for individuals and corporations.

The major difference in objectives of insolvency for individuals and corporations is that individuals are not "dissolved" following insolvency proceedings in the way that a company is dissolved once its affairs have been settled.

To improve your responses, ensure they are commensurate with the mark allocation – while Q 3.1 asks for a brief note, it is for 5 marks.

1.5

Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the difficulties that may be encountered when dealing with insolvency law in a cross-border context relating to pertinent differences in the relevant systems.

Westbrook has identified nine key difficulties that may be encountered when dealing with insolvency law in a cross-border context, being: 1) standing for (recognition of) the foreign representative; 2) moratorium on creditor actions; 3) creditor participation; 4) executory contracts; 5) co-ordinated claims procedures; 6) priorities and preferences; 7) avoidance provision powers; 8) discharges; and 9) conflict-of-law issues.

There is some scope to elaborate

3.5

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks]

What multilateral steps have been taken in the 21st century to promote harmonisation of domestic insolvency laws? In your opinion, how much impact are these likely to have in addressing international insolvency issues? Include reasons for your opinion.

In 2004, the Legislative Guide on Insolvency Law was produced by UNCITRAL with the intention it be used as reference point for domestic authorities and legislative bodies when preparing new laws and regulations or reviewing existing legislation. In the early 2000s, the World Bank produced the Principles for Effective Insolvency and Creditor/Debtor Regimes.

In my opinion, 'soft law' seems to be an approach more likely to succeed in addressing international insolvency issues. Using UNCITRAL as an example, in the 1990s, it developed the Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency (MLCBI) a draft legislation that was recommended for adoption by UNCITRAL member States, with or without modification. The legislation could be considered to be successful given the number of member States that have adopted it, and their relative geographies and economic sizes.

The World Bank's Principles for Effective Insolvency and Creditor/Debtor Regimes have had an impact in that the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank sometimes require insolvency reforms in developing countries as a pre-condition of loan support, and may refer these countries to the Legislative Guide and the Principles as a reference point for doing so.

There is some scope to elaborate re political pressure.

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total]

Nadir Pty Ltd (Nadir) is a company registered in Utopia. Originally it was incorporated in the neighbouring country of Erewhon before moving its registration and head office to Utopia one month ago. Apex Pty Ltd (Apex) is incorporated and has its head office in Erewhon. Apex and Nadir enter into a contract by exchange of emails between their head offices for Apex to supply goods to Nadir in Utopia. Nadir has failed to pay for the goods which have been delivered in accordance with the contract. Apex issues court proceedings against Nadir in Utopia for monies owing for the goods sold and delivered.

Meanwhile, Nadir also owes monies to creditors in Erewhon. One Erewhon creditor obtains a court winding-up order against Nadir in Erewhon and a liquidator is also appointed by that court.

If you require additional information to answer the questions that follow, briefly state what information it is you require and why it is relevant.

Question 4.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Assume the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency has been adopted by Utopia without modification, except as required to domesticate it. For example, the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia names its local laws relating to insolvency and its competent court under the Act. The Erewhon liquidator's investigations detect that Apex is suing Nadir in Utopia. The liquidator would like to stop Apex court action against Nadir in Utopia. Advise the Erewhon liquidator on the potential relevance of the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia.

The Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia is relevant in that Utopia has adopted the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency (the "MLCBI") and Chapter IV of the MLCBI mandates co-operation between local and foreign courts or foreign representatives. A key aspect of this is the 'approval or implementation by courts of agreements concerning the coordination of proceedings' (Article 27(d), UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency).

There is some scope to elaborate further.

Question 4.2 [maximum 2 marks]

Would it make any difference to your answer in question 4.1 in the following two alternative scenarios to Apex suing for its debt?

- (a) Apex had filed proceedings to wind-up Nadir, but the matter had not yet been heard.
  - (b) Apex had obtained a court order to wind-up Nadir in Utopia prior to the Erewhon winding-up order.
- (a) No as the proceedings had already been filed
  - (b) Yes, in this case the COMI would be Utopia and not Erewhon

Apply the MLCBI provisions on concurrent insolvency proceedings (see Article 29)

Question 4.3 [maximum 8 marks]

NB: This question is not related to Questions 4.1 and 4.2

A court has ordered the commencement of an insolvency proceeding against a corporate debtor in the State of its incorporation and head office. The company has operated business in a number of States and has assets (real property or interest in land, other tangible assets and intangible assets); creditors (including taxation / revenue authorities) and directors in several States.

Select a country for the company's incorporation and, based on the insolvency laws of the country you select and the brief facts provided, describe four key international insolvency issues facing the insolvency representative in this scenario. For each issue, what domestic laws or international instruments apply to assist the insolvency representative address these four issues?

The company is incorporated in England. The Insolvency Act 1986 is the main legislation regulating English insolvency law. England also adopted the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency in 2006.

Four key international insolvency issues facing the insolvency representative in this scenario are as follows:

- 1) The choice of forum to exercise jurisdiction in the matter. Under the Insolvency Act 1986, English courts have jurisdiction to dissolve companies formed in other States that have carried on business in England
- 2) The recognition and effect of foreign proceedings in the same matter. Under the Insolvency Act 1986, English courts will recognise winding-up orders for foreign companies and will give effect to the foreign proceedings rather than local proceedings to gain control over local assets.
- 3) The choice of law to apply to the matter. English law will apply to matters of substance, however foreign law can be relevant to administrative aspects of the company's dissolution.
- 4) Moratorium on creditor actions

More detail is warranted. For another approach that is closely applied to the facts, see the 'Model' Answer for four key international insolvency issues raised by the facts and facing the insolvency representative in this scenario.
