QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks]

Question 2.1 [maximum 2 marks]

Explain what the term "international insolvency law" means.

[Wessels defines International Insolvency law as that part of the law that: "is commonly described in international literature as a body of rules concerning certain insolvency proceedings or measures, which cannot be fully enforced, because the applicable law cannot be executed immediately and exclusively without consideration being given to the international aspect of a given case".]

This is an authoritative quote. The answer would be improved if it also included information in your own words to indicate your personal understanding of the explanation also.

Question 2.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Differentiate between the concepts of universality and territoriality in cross-border insolvency.

[Universalism advocates that only the law of one country will govern all other bankruptcy proceedings that are underway in other jurisdictions. On the other hand, territorialism advocates that the bankruptcy process will produce legal effect only in the jurisdiction in which it was opened. In other countries, new bankruptcy proceedings may be opened, which will be conducted by the law of the respective country.]

There is scope to elaborate with respect to recognition and effect in that for example, with universalism, recognition and effect requires that other States recognise that one set insolvency proceedings (that all agreed is the appropriate jurisdiction) and recognise it as having extraterritorial effect in their States.

Question 2.3 [maximum 3 marks]

Describe three recent examples of developments in the Middle East region to reform domestic insolvency laws or to address international insolvency Issues.

[It is worthy mention the three following initiatives: The first regional, comparative survey of insolvency systems in the Middle East and North Africa what impact did this have on reforming domestic insolvency laws or addressing international insolvency Issues in the Middle East?

(MENA/2009; the adoption of the Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency in 2018 by Bahrain; and the reform of the domestic insolvency law promoted by the UEA in 2016.)

More detail would have improved the mark awarded for this sub-question.

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total]

Question 3.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the differences regarding the objectives of insolvency for individuals and corporations.

[Individuals insolvency intends to protect the debtor from having all his assets settled to creditors, aiming to guarantee a minimum for the natural person's survival. The individual's insolvency will take into account personal life circumstances and will seek to promote a fresh start for the natural person.

On the other hand, although mechanisms of reorganization of the company in financial crisis are being increasingly implemented, when it is concluded that the company is not viable, the alternative is proceed with the full liquidation of the company.

In any case, principles that apply to individual insolvency and corporate insolvency are: pari passu (equal distribution of debtor's assets among the creditors); to reclaim voidable dispositions whenever the debtor diverted his assets; ensure that secured creditors have their preference respected.]

There is some scope to elaborate

Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks]

Write a brief note on the difficulties that may be encountered when dealing with insolvency law in a cross-border context relating to pertinent differences in the relevant systems.

[Professor Fletcher highlights three aspects that arise during threatening a cross-border insolvency matter and constitute the biggest obstacles to a transnational bankruptcy process: (i) in which jurisdiction should the bankruptcy process be opened; (ii) the choice of law to apply to the matter, according to the particularities of the process; (iii) the recognition and effects that the main process will have on secondary processes. Therefore, the main difficulties of the transactional bankruptcy process will permeate the confrontation of these three points.]

Further detail would be beneficial. For example, consideration of Westbrook's 9 key issues.

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks]

What multilateral steps have been taken in the 21st century to promote harmonisation of domestic insolvency laws? In your opinion, how much impact are these likely to have in addressing international insolvency issues? Include reasons for your opinion.

[As highlights of sources of law that have promoted the harmonization of domestic insolvency laws in the 21st century there is: the UNCITRAL Practice Guide on Cross-Border Insolvency Cooperation (2009); the ALI NAFTA Guidelines Applicable to Court-to-Court Communication in Cross-Border Cases; the Judicial Insolvency Network Guidelines for Communication and Cooperation between Courts in Cross-Border Matters, among other initiatives that emerged in the insolvency field, generally bringing a solid foundation of principles to face cross-border matters and serving as soft law.

The harmonization of bankruptcy law is essential to promote debtor liquidation as quickly and fairly as possible, taking into account the global character that the economy has developed in the 21st century. In this way, developing multijurisdictional mechanisms that communicate with each other is an essential factor to promote tools that help communication between courts, to cooperate in the tracing and recovery of assets, among other issues that may emerge from an increasingly globalized economy.]

There is some scope to elaborate regarding political pressure and foreign investor pressure

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total]

Nadir Pty Ltd (Nadir) is a company registered in Utopia. Originally it was incorporated in the neighbouring country of Erewhon before moving its registration and head office to Utopia one month ago. Apex Pty Ltd (Apex) is incorporated and has its head office in Erewhon. Apex and Nadir enter into a contract by exchange of emails between their head offices for Apex to supply goods to Nadir in Utopia. Nadir has failed to pay for the goods which have been delivered in accordance with the contract. Apex issues court proceedings against Nadir in Utopia for monies owing for the goods sold and delivered.

Meanwhile, Nadir also owes monies to creditors in Erewhon. One Erewhon creditor obtains a court winding-up order against Nadir in Erewhon and a liquidator is also appointed by that court.

If you require additional information to answer the questions that follow, briefly state what information it is you require and why it is relevant.

Question 4.1 [maximum 5 marks]

Assume the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-border Insolvency has been adopted by Utopia without modification, except as required to domesticate it. For example, the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia names its local laws relating to insolvency and its competent court under the Act. The Erewhon liquidator's investigations detect that Apex is suing Nadir in Utopia. The liquidator would like to stop Apex court action against Nadir in Utopia. Advise the Erewhon liquidator on the potential relevance of the Cross-border Insolvency Act of Utopia.

[The liquidator may request the opening of a secondary bankruptcy proceeding before the Court of Utopia, in order to recognize the bankruptcy procedure opened in Erewhon as the main one. With that, the liquidator could request that the main proceedings take effect in the jurisdiction of Utopia and thus oblige the Apex company to submit to the collective liquidation of the assets of the Nadir company, before the Erewhon jurisdiction]

The question requires candidates to apply the relevant MLCBI articles to the facts provided in more detail than that above.

The MLCBI is significant for its provisions on recognition and relief in 4.1.

Question 4.2 [maximum 2 marks]

Would it make any difference to your answer in question 4.1 in the following two alternative scenarios to Apex suing for its debt?

- (a) Apex had filed proceedings to wind-up Nadir, but the matter had not yet been heard.
- (b) Apex had obtained a court order to wind-up Nadir in Utopia prior to the Erewhon winding-up order.

[In scenario a, the other creditors could submit new requests to wind-up the company Nadir, since the request made by the creditor Apex has not yet been assessed. In scenario b, the liquidator would be obliged to observe the winding-up order obtained by Apex in the jurisdiction of Utopia]

The MLCBI is significant for its provisions on concurrent insolvency proceedings in 4.2.

Refer to Article 29 on concurrent insolvency proceedings, under which the local proceedings in Utopia maintain pre-eminence over the foreign proceedings in Erewhon.

0.5

Question 4.3 [maximum 8 marks]

NB: This question is not related to Questions 4.1 and 4.2

A court has ordered the commencement of an insolvency proceeding against a corporate debtor in the State of its incorporation and head office. The company has operated business in a number of States and has assets (real property or interest in land, other tangible assets and intangible assets); creditors (including taxation / revenue authorities) and directors in several States.

Select a country for the company's incorporation and, based on the insolvency laws of the country you select and the brief facts provided, describe four key international insolvency issues facing the insolvency representative in this scenario. For each issue, what domestic laws or international instruments apply to assist the insolvency representative address these four issues?
