ANSWER ALL THE QUESTIONS

QUESTION 1 (multiple-choice questions) [10 marks in total]

Questions 1.1. - 1.10. are multiple-choice questions designed to assess your ability to think critically about the subject. Please read each question carefully before reading the answer options. Be aware that some questions may seem to have more than one right answer, but you are to look for the one that makes the most sense and is the most correct. When you have a clear idea of the question, find your answer and mark your selection on the answer sheet by highlighting the relevant paragraph in yellow. Select only ONE answer. Candidates who select more than one answer will receive no mark for that specific question.

Question 1.1

The EIR 2000 was the first European initiative to ever attempt to harmonise the insolvency laws of EU Member States.

Select the correct answer from the options below:

- (a) True, before the EIR 2000, the EU has not sought to harmonise the insolvency laws of EU Member States.
- (b) False, there was another EU Regulation regulating insolvency law at EU level before the EIR 2000.
- (c) False, an EU Directive regulating insolvency law at EU level existed before the EIR 2000.
- (d) False, the EU sought to draft Conventions with a view to harmonising the insolvency laws of EU Member States as early as the 1960s, but these initiatives failed.

Question 1.2

According to Article 1(1) of the EIR 2015, proceedings fall within the scope of the EIR if:

- (a) they are based on laws relating to insolvency for the purpose of rescue, adjustment of debt, reorganisation, or liquidation; are public; are collective.
- (b) they are based on laws relating to insolvency for the purpose of liquidation; are public; are collective.
- (c) they are based on laws relating to insolvency for the purpose of rescue, adjustment of debt, reorganisation, or liquidation; are public.

(d) they are based on laws relating to insolvency for the purpose of rescue, adjustment of debt, reorganisation, or liquidation; are collective.

Question 1.3

In 2017, the EIR Recast replaced the EIR 2000. Recasting the EIR 2000 was deemed necessary by various stakeholders. Why?

(a) Through its case law, the CJEU had altered the literal meaning of several provisions of the EIR 2000. Newly formulated rules, in line with the CJEU interpretation, were therefore needed.

(b) The EIR 2000 was generally regarded as a successful instrument in the area of European insolvency law by the EU institutions, practitioners and academics. However, a number of its shortcomings were identified by an evaluation study and a public consultation.

(c) The fundamental choices and underlying policies of the EIR 2000 lacked support from the major stakeholders (businesses, public authorities, insolvency practitioners, etc.). A new Regulation was therefore needed to meet their expectations.

(d) The EIR 2000 proved to be inefficient and incapable of promoting co-ordination of cross-border insolvency proceedings in the EU.

Question 1.4

Why can it be said that the EIR Recast did not overhaul the status quo?

(a) The EIR Recast is a copy of the EIR 2000. Its structure and the wording of all articles are similar.

(b) Although the EIR Recast includes relevant and useful innovations, it has stuck with the framework of the EIR 2000 and mostly codified the jurisprudence of the CJEU.

(c) The EIR Recast has not added any new concept to the text of the EIR 2000.

(d) It is incorrect to say that the EIR Recast has not overhauled the status quo at all. On the contrary, the EIR Recast has departed from the text of its predecessor and is a completely new instrument which has rejected all existing concepts and rules.

Question 1.5

The EIR Recast is an instrument of a predominantly procedural nature (including private international law issues). Nevertheless, it contains a number of substantive provisions. Which one of the following provisions constitutes a harmonised (stand-alone) rule of substantive law?

- (a) Article 18 EIR Recast ("Effects of insolvency proceedings on pending lawsuits or arbitral proceedings").
- (b) Article 40 EIR Recast ("Advance payment of costs and expenses").
- (c) Article 7 EIR Recast ("Applicable law").
- (d) Article 31 EIR Recast ("Honouring of an obligation to a debtor").

Question 1.6

The EIR 2015 does not provide a definition of "insolvency" or "likelihood of insolvency". What are the consequences of this?

- (a) The ECJ has provided a definition of "insolvency" in recent case law.
- (b) The European Commission has provided a definition of "insolvency" in its Recommendation on a "New Approach to Business Failure" published in 2014.
- (c) Each Member State will define "insolvency" in national legislation.
- (d) Deciding whether a debtor is "insolvent" or not is a matter for the ECJ to determine.

Question 1.7

The EIR Recast introduced the concept of "synthetic proceedings". What are they?

- (a) "Synthetic proceedings" means that when an insolvency practitioner in the main insolvency proceedings has given an undertaking in accordance with Article 36, the court asked to open secondary proceedings should not, at the request of the insolvency practitioner, open them if they are satisfied that the undertaking adequately protects the general interests of local creditors.
- (b) "Synthetic proceedings" means that for the case at hand, several main proceedings can be opened, in addition to several secondary proceedings.
- (c) "Synthetic proceedings" means that when secondary proceedings are opened, these are automatically rescue proceedings, as opposed to liquidation proceedings.

(d) "Synthetic proceedings" means that insolvency practitioners in all secondary proceedings should treat the proceedings they are dealing with as main proceedings for the purpose of protecting the interests of local creditors.

Question 1.8

The EIR Recast kept the concept of the "centre of main interests" (COMI) of the debtor, which already existed in the EIR 2000. What were the amendments adopted in relation to this concept?

- (a) The COMI of the debtor is not presumed to be "at the place of the registered office" anymore and the debtor will need to confirm where his COMI is before the beginning of each case.
- (b) Although the COMI of a debtor is still presumed to be "at the place of the registered office", it is now possible to rebut this presumption, albeit only by the courts.
- (c) The rule that a company's COMI conforms to its registered office is now an irrefutable presumption.
- (d) Although the COMI of a debtor is still presumed to be "at the place of the registered office", it should now be possible to rebut this presumption based on Article 3 EIR Recast and Recital 31.

Question 1.9

In which of the following scenarios may the recognition of a foreign insolvency proceeding be denied under the EIR Recast?

- (a) Where the decision to open the insolvency proceedings was taken in flagrant breach of the right to be heard, which a person concerned by such proceedings enjoys.
- (b) The judgment, subject to recognition, was passed with incorrect application of the applicable substantive law.
- (c) The court, which has opened insolvency proceedings (originating court), most certainly did not have international insolvency jurisdiction to do so under the EIR Recast.
- (d) The rule applied by the court, which has opened insolvency proceedings (originating court), is unknown or does not have an equivalent in the law of the jurisdiction in which recognition is sought.

Question 1.10

In a cross-border dispute, the main proceedings before the German court concerns Schatz GmbH (registered in Germany) and Canetier SARL (registered in France). The case deals with an action to set aside four contested payments that amount to EUR 900,000. These payments were made pursuant to a sales agreement dated 29 December 2021, governed by Italian law. The contested payments have been made by Schatz GmbH to Canetier SARL before the former went insolvent. The insolvency practitioner of the company claims that the contested payments should be set aside because Canetier SARL must have been aware that Schatz GmbH was facing insolvency at the time the payments were made.

Considering the facts of the case and relevant provisions of the EIR Recast, which one of the following statements is the most accurate?

- (a) The insolvency practitioner will always succeed in his claim if he can clearly prove that under the lex concursus, the contested payments can be avoided (Article 7(2)(m) EIR Recast).
- (b) The contested transactions cannot be avoided if Canetier SARL can prove that the lex causae (including its general provisions and insolvency rules) does not allow any means of challenging the contested transactions, and provided that the parties did not choose that law for abusive or fraudulent ends.
- (c) The contested payments will not be avoided if Canetier SARL proves that such transactions cannot be challenged on the basis of the insolvency provisions of Italian law (Article 16 EIR Recast).
- (d) To defend the contested payments Canetier SARL can rely solely, in a purely abstract manner, on the unchallengeable character of the payments at issue on the basis of a provision of the lex causae.

Total marks: 10 out of 10. Very good.

QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks]

Question 2.1 [maximum 2 marks] 2

The following two (2) statements relate to particular provisions / concepts to be found in the EIR Recast. Indicate the name of the provision / concept (as well as the relevant EIR Recast article), addressed in each statement.

Statement 1. The presumptions that the registered office, the principal place of business and the habitual residence are the centre of main interests need to be rebuttable.

Statement 2. Proceedings covered by the scope of the EIR 2015 should include proceedings promoting the rescue of economically viable debtors, especially at a stage where there is a mere likelihood of insolvency.

Statement 1: Presumption of the centre of main interest and refutability (recital 24, article 3(1))

Statement 2: Material scope of EIR Recast (recital 10, article 1)

Question 2.2 [maximum 3 marks] 2

The EIR Recast is built upon the concept of modified universalism, as pure universalism has been deemed idealistic and impractical for the time being. Provide three (3) examples of provisions from the EIR Recast which highlight this modified universalism approach.

One example is the article 19(2)

A second example is article 3(1)

A third example is article 7(1)

These provisions should have been explained, even briefly.

Question 2.3 [maximum 3 marks] 3

Because pure universalism has not been adopted under the EIR 2015, main and secondary insolvency proceedings can be opened at the same time against the same debtor. In light of this, it is seminal that proper co-operation between the actors involved in concurrent proceedings takes place. It is therefore not surprising that co-operation has been introduced as an obligation on several actors in the EIR 2015. List three (3) provisions (recitals and / or articles) of the EIR Recast that deal with the obligation to co-operate.

Article 56: Obligation to cooperate between insolvency practitioners

Article 57: Obligation to cooperate between courts

Recital 52: Cooperation between the actors involved in proceedings of a group of companies

Question 2.4 [maximum 2 marks] 2

It is widely accepted that the opening of secondary proceedings can hamper the efficient administration of the debtor's estate. For this reason, the EIR Recast has introduced a number of legal instruments to avoid or otherwise control the opening, conduct and closure of secondary proceedings. Provide two (2) examples of such instruments and briefly (in one to three sentences) explain how they operate.

One example is the right to give an undertaking regulated in article 36 of the EIR Recast. On the undertaking, the main insolvency practitioner promises local creditors to be treated as if a secondary insolvency proceeding have opened, in relation to the distribution of assets and the result of their realisation.

A second example is the judicial review of the decision to open secondary insolvency proceedings, contemplated on article 39 of the EIR Recast. This provision enables the main insolvency practitioner with the right to challenge the decision to open secondary insolvency proceedings, proving that the decision doesn't comply with the requirements of article 38.

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total]

In addition to the correctness, completeness (including references to case law, if applicable) and originality of your answers to the questions below, marks may be awarded or deducted on the basis of your presentation, expression and writing skills.

Question 3.1 [maximum 5 marks] 3.5

During the reform process of the EIR 2000, what main elements were identified by the European Commission as needing revision within the framework of the Regulation (whether adopted or not)?

The elements that needed a revision were the scope of restructuring proceedings, rules on cooperation, proceedings involving a same group of companies, improvement of creditor information and the incorporation of data protection rules.

It would have been good for you to expand further and explain why these elements were identified as needing revision.

Question 3.2 [maximum 5 marks] 3.5

While the EIR Recast was welcomed by most stakeholders, it was also criticised by some as a "missed opportunity" and "modest". List two (2) flaws or shortcomings of the EIR Recast and explain how you consider they could be corrected.

*One shortcoming of the EIR Recast is lack of harmonisation on substantial law rules, for example directors' liability or ranking of claims. This shortcoming should be corrected through an implementation of a harmonized body of rules across the Member States, but practice have showed that this is a hard aim (even the Directive on Preventive Restructuring Frameworks, that aims to harmonise substantial rules on restructuring proceedings, has not had the expected effect, with a limit due to the implementation of each Member State). Yes but this was never the point of the Regulation. It has always had a purely procedural focus. You could have focused on issues of groups of companies or the voluntary nature of cooperation and communication for example.

A second shortcoming is lack of detail in some matters, for example, in the information to creditors, which has led to a lack of information from creditors located in different Member States. This shortcoming should be corrected with the full implementation of the E-Justice Portal and electronics notifications of the opening of insolvency proceedings.

Question 3.3 [maximum 5 marks] 3.5

The European Insolvency Regulation is a choice-of-forum instrument, which although aiming at procedural harmonisation, did not harmonise the substantive insolvency laws of the Member States. Because of lingering disparities among the national insolvency regimes across the EU, the European institutions introduced the Directive on Preventive Restructuring Frameworks in 2019, which is meant to dovetail the European Insolvency Regulation. List two (2) ways in which the Regulation and the Directive differ.

A first way in which the Regulation and the Directive differs is in their purpose. Meanwhile the Regulation aims to cover cross-border insolvency issues, the Directive aims to harmonise the substantive law of the Member States, as can be understood from recitals 12 and 13 of the Directive.

*A second difference is the scope. The scope of the Directive is broad than the scope of the Regulation, covering even proceedings excluded from the application of the Regulation. This is not necessarily correct. You are right to say that their scopes differ but the scope of the directive is very narrow (i.e. preventive restructuring only).

Your discussion could have focused on:

- The difference between a Regulation and a Directive, as an instrument of EU law;*
- The EIR 2015 is a choice-of-forum instrument which harmonised the procedural aspects of cross-border insolvency law / the Directive aimed to harmonise substantive aspects of insolvency law across the EU;*
- The EIR 2015 is a conflict of law instrument focusing on most aspects of cross-border insolvency law / the Directive, while substantively harmonising insolvency law across the EU, has focused on a narrow aspect of insolvency, i.e. preventive restructuring;*
- Due to the nature of the Regulation, all Member States must comply with its provisions / the Directive is a minimum standard instrument, which means that it merely establishes a threshold under which the Member States cannot legislate. However, this minimum harmonisation approach also leaves the Member States with substantive leeway in how they want to adopt the provisions of the Directive.*

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total]

Scenario

Bella SARL is a French-registered company selling cosmetic products. The company had opened its first store in Strasbourg, France in 2010 and has warehouses across Europe, including in Germany, Ireland, Italy, Spain and Portugal. Its main warehouse is located in Cork, Ireland. All of its employees are located in these countries and most of its customers are also located in these countries, yet some online purchases are coming mainly from the Netherlands and Poland.

In 2011, Bella SARL entered into a loan agreement with a Spanish bank because it was hoping to expand its reach onto the Spanish luxury cosmetic market. It opened a bank account with the bank while also negotiating prices with local suppliers. It signed some (non-binding) memoranda of understanding with three Madrid-based suppliers.

Unfortunately for Bella SARL, the timing of this initiative coincided with the Great Economic and Financial crisis which hit Europe in the late 2000s. By 2014 the company was in financial difficulty, yet managed to keep afloat for another few years. On 20 June 2017, it filed a petition to open safeguard proceedings in the Strasbourg High Court in France.

Question 4.1 [maximum 5 marks] 0

Assume that the timeline is slightly different and, therefore, assume that it is not the EIR 2015 that applies but the EIR 2000.

Does the Strasbourg High Court have jurisdiction to open the requested safeguard proceedings under the EIR 2000?

You must justify your answer when explaining why it does or does not have jurisdiction. Your answer should contain references to the applicable law and the relevant CJEU jurisprudence.

Yes, because the centre of the main interest of the debtor is in France, where the company have the registered office (article 3 EIR 2000). The CJEU in the case Eurofood ruled that the COMI needs to be ascertainable by third parties.

This is incorrect.

- The Strasbourg High Court does not have international insolvency jurisdiction to open insolvency proceedings.
- You were expected to mention that under the EIR 2000 (Article 3), the determination of international jurisdiction to open main insolvency proceedings is linked to the debtor's centre of main interest (COMI). According to Article 3 EIR Recast, COMI shall be the place where the debtor conducts the administration of its interests on a regular basis and which is ascertainable by third parties (see also Recital 28). The place of the registered office shall be presumed to be the COMI in the absence of proof to the contrary.

- Relevant case law: Eurofood IFSC Ltd, Case C-341/04, ECLI:EU:C:2006:281 (May 2, 2006) and Interedil Srl, in liquidation v Fallimento Interedil Srl, Case C-396/09, ECLI:EU:C:2011:671 (Oct. 20, 2011).
- However, Article 1 of the EIR 2000 states that ‘this Regulation shall apply to collective insolvency proceedings which entail the partial or total divestment of a debtor and the appointment of a liquidator.
- Article 2 EIR 2000 states that “insolvency proceedings” shall mean the collective proceedings referred to in Article 1(1). These proceedings are listed in Annex A.
- Annex A of the EIR 2000 only listed two French insolvency proceedings which came under the scope of the EIR 2000: (i) liquidation; (ii) redressement judiciaire (rehabilitation).

Therefore, the EIR 2000 would not apply to safeguard proceedings.

Question 4.2 [maximum 5 marks] 1

Assume that the timeline is as explained in the original scenario above and that the French High Court opens safeguard proceedings on 30 June 2017.

Will the EIR Recast be applicable to the proceedings?

Your answer should address the EIR Recast’s scope and contain all steps taken to answer the question.

Yes, because the safeguards proceedings comply with the scope established in Article 1, and the proceedings were opened after 26 June 2017, so the EIR Recast is applicable according to Article 84.

- Your reasoning is incomplete. The EIR Recast will be applicable. The logical order of the steps to be taken is the following:
- Article 3(1) EIR Recast. COMI of Bella SARL is in the EU (and not in Denmark), i.e. in Ireland (as stated in the answer to Question 4.1.). YES
- Article 1(2) EIR Recast. Bella SARL is not a credit institution, insurance undertaking or any other ‘excluded’ entity. YES
- Article 2(4), Recital 9, Annex A EIR Recast. The opened proceeding ‘Safeguard’ is listed in Annex A to the EIR Recast. YES
- Article 2(7), 84(1), 92 EIR Recast. The proceedings in question were opened on 30 June 2017, i.e. after the EIR Recast has entered into force. The filing date (20 June 2017) is not determinative for the temporal scope. YES

Question 4.3 [maximum 5 marks] 0

An Italian bank files a petition to open secondary insolvency proceedings in Italy with the purpose of securing an Italian insolvency distribution ranking.

Given the facts of the case, can such proceedings be opened in Italy under the EIR Recast?

Your answer should contain references to the applicable law and the relevant CJEU jurisprudence.

Yes, because in Italy the debtor have an establishment, so it comply with the regulation of article 34. The applicable law, according to article 35 and article 7(2)(i), would be the Italian Law.

This is incorrect.

- According to Article 3(2) EIR Recast, where the debtor's COMI is situated within the territory of a Member State, the courts of another Member State shall have jurisdiction to open insolvency proceedings against that debtor only if it possesses an establishment within the territory of that other Member State.
- Under Article 2(10) EIR Recast, 'establishment' means any place of operations where a debtor carries out or has carried out in the 3-month period prior to the request to open main insolvency proceedings a non-transitory economic activity with human means and assets.
- Relevant case law: Interedil Srl, in liquidation v Fallimento Interedil Srl, Case C-396/09, ECLI:EU:C:2011:671 (Oct. 20, 2011), Burgo Group SpA v Illochroma SA, Case C-327/13, ECLI:EU:C:2014:2158 (Sep. 4, 2014).
- The facts of the case do not support the finding of an establishment of Bella SARL in Italy. The presence alone of assets (leased-out warehouse) in isolation, contractual relations with a local bank (including maintenance of a bank account) and occasional negotiations (whether individual or collective) with local distributors do not qualify as 'non-transitory economic activity with human means and assets'. The requisite minimum level of organisation and a degree of stability (see para. 64 in Interedil) is evidently missing.
- Therefore, under the EIR Recast, secondary insolvency proceedings cannot be opened in Italy.
