*[The entitlement to submit an insolvency plan is granted only to either the debtor or the insolvency administrator. The plan is to be submitted to the insolvency court. The plan must have two parts. The parties must be formed into groups with differing legal statuses, all parties involved must be offered equal rights. The plan then needs the consent of the creditors. All groups must vote to accept the plan for it to be finally approved. (Necessary majorities?) When the order approving the plan becomes final, its effects become binding on all participants. § 251 InsO protects minorities from being disadvantaged.
