QUESTION 2 (direct questions) [10 marks in total] 10 marks

Question 2.1 [maximum 3 marks] 3 marks

What is the key distinction between the application of the MLCBI and the European Union (EU) Regulation on insolvency proceedings? Also describe one key benefit and disadvantage of each approach.

[The European Insolvency Regulation, adopted on May 29, 2000. Following its adoption, it became part of the domestic laws of the EU member states. It guarantees reciprocity of recognition and is applicable in all EU member countries. It however has no application outside the EU. Additionally, it does not offer automatic recognition to foreign insolvency representatives outside of the EU. The European Insolvency Regulation, typical of such uniform cross border insolvency laws, took over 40 years to be adopted.

The MLCBI on the other hand is only a recommendation as suitable for adoption into the domestic laws of countries. It is neither a treaty nor convention. It is thus a “soft law”. The MLCBI does not require reciprocity of recognition and guarantees automatic recognition of foreign insolvency representatives by the enacting states. One shortcoming of the MLCBI is that while enacting states do not require reciprocity of recognition, states which have not adopted the MLCBI into their laws do not, in the absence a treaty, offer similar reciprocity.]

Question 2.2 [maximum 2 marks] 2 marks

Explain what the court should primarily consider using its discretionary power to grant post-recognition relief under Article 21 of the MLCBI.

[Article 21 of MLCBI is a provision on the discretionary power that a court in an enacting state may exercise to grant reliefs in the nature of protection of debtors’ assets or creditors’ interests at the request of foreign insolvency representative. The discretion may be exercised, among others, to stay commencement or continuation of individual actions, execution against the debtor’s assets or suspending transfer or disposal of the debtor’s assets. In granting any relief under Article 21, the court must be satisfied that the interest of local creditors (creditors in the enacting state) is adequately protected. Additionally, the court ought to be satisfied where the matter is in relation to a foreign non-main proceeding that the relief sought is in respect of assets which will not undermine or interfere with the foreign main proceeding.

Question 2.3 [2 marks] 2 marks

Explain the protections granted to creditors in a foreign proceeding under Article 13 of the MLCBI.

[Article 13 of the MLCBI is an anti-discriminatory provision which seeks to guarantee, subject to relevant domestic rules of the enacting state, equal treatment and rights to foreign creditors as applicable to domestic creditors in the enacting state. Taken together with Articles 11, Article 13 of the Model Law ensures that creditors in foreign proceedings who seek recognition and enforcement in the enacting state are not given lower ranking to their claims as against unsecured creditors of the enacting state solely because they are foreign creditors.]

Question 2.4 [maximum 3 marks] 3 marks

What is a key distinction with respect to the relief available in foreign main versus foreign non-main proceedings?

[The key distinction between relief available in a foreign main versus foreign non-main proceedings lies in the fact that under the Model law, once the Centre of Main Interest (COMI) of the debtor is the jurisdiction where the insolvent proceedings have commenced, then the proceedings are foreign main proceedings with automatic mandatory relief. However, if the proceedings were commenced in a jurisdiction where the debtor has an establishment and thus constitute a foreign non-main proceedings, then it would be without automatic relief but only discretionary post recognition relief granted by the court.]

QUESTION 3 (essay-type questions) [15 marks in total] 6 marks

Question 3.1 [maximum 4 marks] 2 marks

A debtor has its COMI in Germany and an establishment in Bermuda, and both foreign main and foreign non-main proceedings as well as the recognition proceedings in the US have been opened. In this scenario, explain where the foreign proceedings must have been filed, and the likely result.

[Since the COMI of the company is in Germany, the foreign main proceedings should have been commenced in Germany and a foreign non-main proceeding in Bermuda (due to the presence of the company's establishment there). Germany has not yet adopted the Model Law. However, the US has adopted the Model Law. Ideally therefore, the foreign main proceedings, if it had been filed in Germany, under the Model Law, it would have received recognition in the US.]

Requires references to definitional and procedural provisions of MLCBI eg. Art. 2, 15, 17, 6..

Question 3.2 [maximum 3 marks] 0 mark

Joint provisional liquidators commenced a recognition proceeding in the US and immediately were sued and served with discovery in connection with their alleged tortious interference with contract rights of the US-based vendors of the foreign debtor. Explain the likely outcome.

[In these brief facts, I discern a scenario of a domestic proceeding in the US by domestic creditors as against an application for recognition of foreign proceedings in the US. This would amount to concurrent proceedings, a situation where more than one insolvency proceedings have been opened in respect of the same debtor. Under Article 29 of the Model Law, primacy would be given to the domestic proceedings in such a situation.]

Requires discussion based on Art.10 MLCBI

Question 3.3 [maximum 4 marks] 4 marks

A foreign representative who administers assets in a debtor-in-possession-like restructuring proceeding in the UK commences a recognition proceeding in the US, setting the recognition hearing 35 days after the petition date due to the availability of the court. There is no litigation pending or threatened against the foreign debtor, but US-governed leases and intellectual property licenses have ipso facto clauses (that is, bankruptcy-triggered terminations) that are not enforceable under the US Bankruptcy Code. Based on these facts, explain what steps, if any, should the foreign representative take to protect the assets and why?

[Similar to the Fibra Celulose S/A v. Pan Ocean Co. Ltd case, the US courts may not enforce the ipso facto clauses which are not enforceable in the US. As reasoned by the English courts, the US courts may not be willing to go beyond grant reliefs that it would grant in domestic cases. Since the English courts had held in the above cited case that ipso facto clauses are applicable in the UK, then the foreign representative must rather seek to enforce their rights under UK laws.]

Question 3.4 [maximum 4 marks] 0 mark

A foreign representative, who administers the assets of an insolvent debtor in an insolvency proceeding pending in Country A (where the foreign debtor has its registered office and not much more), commenced a proceeding in Country B to recognise the foreign proceeding as the foreign main proceeding in order to sell certain assets within the territorial jurisdiction of Country B, but unfortunately the insolvency court considering the petition for recognition denied the recognition of the foreign proceeding as a foreign main proceeding. Explain what may or should the foreign representative do next? What should the foreign representative have done at the outset?

QUESTION 4 (fact-based application-type question) [15 marks in total] 0 mark

Assume you received a file for a new client of the firm. The file contains the facts described below. Based on these facts, analyse key filing strategy to ensure a successful restructuring - specifically, whether to apply for recognition of main or nonmain proceeding or both (in light of COMI / establishment analysis), what papers need to be submitted, and what relief should be requested on day one of the filing.

The client is a Cayman Islands incorporated and registered entity. It is a financial service holding company for a number of direct and indirect subsidiaries that operate in the commercial automobile insurance sector in the United States. Globe Holdings was initially formed as a Canadian company in 2009, under the laws of Ontario, Canada. A year later, following certain reverse merger transactions, it filed a Certificate of Registration by Way of Continuation in the Cayman Islands to re-domesticate as a Cayman Islands company and changed its name to Globe Financial Holdings Inc. When it re-incorporated in the Cayman Islands in 2010 (from Canada), Globe Holdings provided various notices of its re-incorporation, including in the public filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Around that time, Globe Holdings retained its Cayman Islands counsel Cedar and Woods, which has regularly represented Globe Holdings for over a decade. Globe Holdings has a bank account (opened just a few days ago) in the Cayman Islands from which it pays certain of its operating expenses. Globe Holdings often holds its board meetings virtually, and not physically in the Cayman Islands, and, having obtained support for a bond restructuring, all its regular and special board meetings have been organized by its local Cayman counsel virtually. The client also maintains its books and records in the Cayman Islands. Its public filings with the SEC as well as the prospectus provided in connection with the issuance of the Notes disclosed that Globe Holdings is a Cayman Islands company and explained the related indemnification and tax consequences resulting from Globe Holdings' place of reformation.

Globe Holdings has no business operations of its own. The business is carried out through its non-insurance company non-debtor subsidiaries that are all incorporated under the US laws and operating in the US. All employees are in the US. The headquarters are also in the US.

In April 2017, Globe Holdings offered and issued USD 25,000,000 in aggregate nominal principal amount of 6.625% senior unsecured notes due in 2023 (referenced above as the Notes) governed by New York law.

In 2019, Globe Holdings recorded on its consolidated balance sheet a significant increase in liabilities. As a result, Globe Holdings worked with external professional advisors to undertake a formal strategic evaluation of its subsidiaries' businesses. In September 2020, Globe Holdings announced that it was informed its shares would be suspended from the NASDAQ Stock Market due to delinquencies in filing its 10-K. Thereafter, on November 6, 2020, its shares were delisted from the NASDAQ stock market.

An independent third party is actively marketing the sale of the corporate headquarters located in New York including the land, building, building improvements and contents including furniture and fixtures.

Despite these efforts to ease the financial stress, the culmination of incremental challenges consequently resulted in Globe Holdings being both cash flow and balance sheet insolvent.

Globe Holdings retained Cedar and Woods, its long-standing Cayman Islands counsel, to advise on restructuring alternatives. Upon consultations with Cayman counsel and its other professionals, Globe Holdings ultimately determined that the most value accretive path for the Noteholders was to commence a scheme under Cayman Islands law, followed by a chapter 15 recognition proceeding in the United States, most notably to extend the maturity of the Notes and obtain the flexibility to pay the quarterly interest "in kind".

Globe Holdings expeditiously secured the support of the majority of the Noteholders of its decision to delay interest payments and restructure the Notes through a formal proceeding. Thereafter, on August 31, 2021, about 57% of the Noteholders acceded to the Restructuring Support Agreement (RSA) governed by the New York law. The RSA memorialized the agreed-upon terms of the Note Restructuring. When Globe Holdings approached its largest Noteholders regarding the contemplated restructuring, their expectations were that any such restructuring would take place in the Cayman Islands, which is reflected in the RSA.

On July 4, 2023, the client, in accordance with the terms of the RSA, applied to the Cayman Court for permission to convene a single scheme meeting on the basis that the Noteholders, as the only Scheme Creditors, should constitute a single class of creditors for the purpose of voting on the Scheme.

On July 26, 2023 the Cayman Court entered a convening order (the Convening Order) on the papers, among other things, authorizing the client to convene a single Scheme Meeting for the purpose of considering and, through a majority vote, approving, with or without modification, the Scheme. The Scheme Meeting was held in the Cayman Islands at the offices of Cedar and Woods. Given the Covid-19 pandemic, Scheme Creditors were also afforded the convenience of observing the Scheme Meeting via Zoom and in person via a satellite location in New York. Following the Scheme Meeting, the chairman of the Scheme Meeting (presiding over the meeting in person) reported to the Cayman Court that the Scheme was overwhelmingly supported by the Noteholders, with 91.83% in number and 99.34% in value voting in favor of the Scheme. The Sanction Hearing was held, and an order sanctioning the Scheme (the Sanction Order), which was filed with the Cayman Islands Registrar of Companies the same day.

During all of this time, a class action litigation was in the US was brewing but has been filed yet.
